Part One: Theoretical Framework

1. The Debate on an Optional European Contract Law .....	11
1.1 Political Developments in European Contract Law .....	11
1.2 The Competence of the European Union to Adopt an Optional European Contract Law .....	22
1.2.1 Article 81 TFEU .....	24
1.2.2 Article 114 TFEU .....	25
1.2.3 Article 352 TFEU .....	30
1.2.4 Article 114 TFEU as the Legal Basis for the CESL .....	31
1.2.5 The German Bundestag's Subsidiarity Objection .....	37
1.2.6 Need for an Economic and Empirical Justification to Establish the EU's Competence to Adopt an Optional European Contract Law .....	41

VIII

1.3 Empirical Research on European Contract Law .....	43
1.3.1 Requests for Empirical Research .....	44
1.3.2 Previous Empirical Research .....	48
1.3.2.1 Academic Research .....	48
1.3.2.2 Research Conducted by the Commission of the European Union .....	53
1.4 The European Commission’s Impact Assessment Accompanying the Proposal for a Regulation on a Common European Sales Law .....	68
1.4.1 Opportunity Costs for Intra-EU Trade .....	70
1.4.2 Transaction Costs at Company Level and Cumulative Transaction Costs .....	73
1.4.3 Economic Impact of the Policy Option “Regulation setting up an Optional Common European Sales Law” .....	77
1.4.4 Assessment of the IA .....	79
1.5 The Lack of Formal Statistical Analysis on European Contract Law .....	80
2. The Theory of Institutional Competition in European Contract Law .....	85
2.1 Definition of Institutional Competition .....	86
2.2 The Law Market and the Legal Framework for Institutional Competition .....	89
2.3 Limitations to the Theory of Institutional Competition .....	92
2.4 The Impact of Institutional Competition on Member States and the EU .....	98
2.5 The Effect of Harmonization on Institutional Competition .....	101

2.6 Relevant Insights from the Theory of Institutional Competition for an Optional European Contract Law .....	105
3. An Optional European Contract Code in the Institutional Competition between European Contract Laws ..... 107
3.1 The Economics of a European Contract Law .....	108
3.2 The European Market for Contract Laws .....	111
3.2.1 Creeping Codification .....	114
3.2.2 The Theory of Transaction Costs for the Choice of Law ....	116
3.2.2.1 Information Costs .....	118
3.2.2.2 Suboptimal Choice of Law Costs .....	119
3.2.3 The Relationship between Information Costs and Suboptimal Choice of Law Costs .....	121
3.3 The Theory of Legal Order .....	123
3.3.1 Centralized Order .....	124
3.3.2 Decentralized Order .....	125
3.3.3 Knowledge and Order .....	126
3.3.4 The Relationship between Centralized and Decentralized Order .....	128
3.4 Competition for Innovation .....	129
3.4.1 The Supply Side .....	130
3.4.2 The Demand Side .....	133
3.4.3 The Relationship between the Supply Side and the Demand Side .....	134
3.5 The European Contract Law .....	136
3.5.1 Centralized Order – A Single Contract Law .....	137
3.5.2 Decentralized Order – The European Market for Contract Laws .....	138

3.5.3 Competition for Innovation in the European Market for Contract Laws .....	138
3.6 The Cycle of European Contract Law Model .....	142
3.7 The Restraining Effect of Consumer Protection Rules on Institutional Competition .....	146
3.8 Implications Derived from the Cycle of European Contract Law Model for the Implementation of an Optional European Contract Law .....	150

Part Two: Empirical Research

4. Methodology .....	159
4.1 Research Design .....	160
4.2 Sampling of Respondents .....	164
4.3 Design of Questionnaire .....	167
4.4 Procedure .....	169
4.5 Representativeness of the Sample .....	170
5. Association Analysis for the Choice of Proper Contract Law and Dispute Resolution Forum in Cross-Border Contracts .....	173
5.1 Introduction to the Analysis of Associations between Variables .....	174
5.2 General Overview of Contract Laws and Dispute Resolution Forums .....	177
5.2.1 Differentiation of the Concept Dispute Resolution Forum .	178
5.2.2 The Variable Pairs Contract Law and Dispute Resolution Forum .....	181

5.2.3 Results of the Association Analysis .....	182
5.3 Choice of Contract Law and Dispute Resolution Forum .....	184
5.3.1 The Variable Pairs Choice of Contract Law and Choice of Dispute Resolution Forum .....	185
5.3.2 Results of the Correlation Analysis .....	186
5.4 Interpretation – Do Contracting Parties Differentiate between the Dispute Resolution Forum and the Applicable Contract Law when Choosing them for a Cross-Border Transaction? .....	189
6. Regression Models for Addressing Questions in European Contract Law .....	191
6.1 Introduction to Binary Logistic Regression Analysis .....	191
6.1.1 The Binary Logistic Regression Model .....	192
6.1.2 Dichotomisation of the Dependent Variables .....	194
6.1.3 Treating Ordinal Explanatory Variables as Continuous .....	195
6.1.4 Multicollinearity Assumption and the Test for Multicollinearity .....	196
6.1.5 Goodness of Fit .....	197
6.2 Preference for a European Contract Law Binary Logistic Regression Model .....	199
6.2.1 Response and Explanatory Variables .....	199
6.2.2 Nested Model Structure .....	205
6.2.2.1 Full Model .....	206
6.2.2.2 Reduced Model .....	207
6.2.3 Fitted Probabilities of Preference for a European Contract Law .....	208
6.2.4 Interpretation – What are the Characteristics of the Supporters of a European Contract Law? .....	211

6.3 Preference for a European Civil Justice System
Binary Logistic Regression Model .....	213
6.3.1 Response and Explanatory Variables .....	213
6.3.2 Nested Model Structure .....	219
6.3.2.1 Full Model .....	221
6.3.2.2 Reduced Model .....	221
6.3.3 Fitted Probabilities of Preferring a European Civil Justice System .....	223
6.3.4 Interpretation – What are the Characteristics of the Supporters of a European Civil Justice System? .....	224
6.4 The Use of Optional Contract Codes
Binary Logistic Regression Model .....	227
6.4.1 Response and Explanatory Variables .....	227
6.4.2 Nested Model Structure .....	232
6.4.2.1 Reduced Model.....	233
6.4.2.2 Full Model .....	234
6.4.3 Fitted Probabilities of Using Optional Contract Codes .....	237
6.4.4 The Effect of the Variable ‘Home Jurisdiction’ .....	238
6.4.5 Interpretation – What are the Characteristics of the Users of Optional Contract Codes? .....	241
7. The Transaction Costs Latent Variable Model .....	245
7.1 The Indicator Variables .....	247
7.2 The Transaction Costs Confirmatory Factor Model .....	250
7.3 The Use of Optional Contract Codes Factor Score
Binary Logistic Regression Model .....	255

7.4 Interpretation – Do the Concepts of Information Costs and Suboptimal Choice of Law Costs Adequately Describe the Transaction Costs Involved in Cross-Border Transactions? .....	258
---	-----

Part Three: Conclusions

8. Assessment of the Desirability of an Optional European Contract Law .....	263
8.1 Summary of the Main Theoretical Findings .....	264
8.2 Summary of the Main Empirical Findings .....	265
8.2.1 The Interdependence between the Dispute Resolution Forum and the Applicable Contract Law .....	267
8.2.2 Portrayal of the Supporters of a European Contract Law ...	268
8.2.3 Portrayal of the Supporters of a European Civil Justice System .....	269
8.2.4 Portrayal of the Users of Optional Contract Laws .....	270
8.2.5 Concluding Remarks on the Research Design Employed ...	273
8.3 Recommendations for Future Policy in the Field of European Contract Law .....	274
