

Contents

1	Victims of Environmental Harm	1
	References	14
2	Prosecution of Environmental Offending	21
	Strict Liability	22
	Motive Behind Offending	23
	Guilty Pleas	24
	Offenders	25
	Reoffending	25
	Victims	26
	Offender and Victim Involvement in Prosecution	30
	Sentencing of Environmental Offending	37
	Fines	38
	Reparative Orders	38
	Publication Orders	50
	Future References Orders	51
	Restorative Justice Activity Orders	52
	References	54

vi Contents

3	Justice as Procedure and Justice as Outcome	57
	Justice as Procedure	59
	Justice as Outcome	61
	References	73
4	Restorative Justice	77
	Definitions of Restorative Justice	78
	Origins of Restorative Justice	80
	Dissatisfaction with Modern Criminal Justice Systems	82
	Intervention Points	86
	Conference Participants	87
	Central Tenets of Restorative Justice	88
	Restorative Justice Conferencing as a Resolution Device	92
	References	94
5	Restorative Justice in an Environmental Offending Context: Theory and Practice	99
	Victoria (Australia)	99
	New South Wales (Australia)	103
	New Zealand	105
	Canada	106
	United States	109
	United Kingdom	113
	Transnational Crime	114
	Environmental Harm	114
	References	117
6	Restorative Justice Conferencing in an Environmental Offending Context: Case Studies	125
	New Zealand Environmental Offending Context	125
	The Use of Conferencing in a New Zealand Environmental Offending Context	130
	Interflow: A Case Study	137
	New South Wales Aboriginal Cultural Heritage Protection Context	141

	Williams: A Case Study	141
	Clarence Valley Council: A Case Study	148
	References	154
7	The Benefits and Limitations of Restorative Justice Conferencing	157
	Benefits of Restorative Justice Conferencing	157
	Limitations of Restorative Justice Conferencing	175
	References	179
8	Overcoming the Barriers to Restorative Justice Conferencing	181
	A Legislative Framework	181
	Judicial Oversight of Conferencing Outcomes	185
	Stakeholder, Practitioner, and Judicial Knowledge	191
	Suitability Criteria for Conferencing	195
	Conference Facilitation and Follow Up	202
	A Restorative Justice Unit Within the NSWLEC	205
	Stakeholder Participation	207
	References	209
9	Environmental Victims and Restorative Justice Conferencing	213
	Victim Identification	214
	Victim Voice	220
	Selection of Victim Representatives (Human Guardians)	223
	Nature of Victim Voices	226
	References	231
10	Justice as Meaningful Involvement and Its Operationalisation Through Restorative Justice Conferencing	235
	Recognition	236
	Participation	238
	Capability	239
	(Ir)Relevance of Distribution	241
	Meaningful Involvement	243

viii Contents

Operationalisation of Justice as Meaningful Involvement	244
Achievement of a Tripartite Conceptualisation of Justice	247
Concluding Remarks and Future Directions	252
References	257

Index	261
--------------	------------