

Contents

Acknowledgements	page vii
Introduction	1
PART I PURPOSE
1 Activating the Criminal Law: Establishing the Duty to Advance Social Justice	9
PART II PARADIGM AND PRINCIPLE
2 The Real Person Approach: Recognising Vulnerability at Culpability Evaluation	49
3 Proportionality: Recalibrating the Desert Calculus	79
4 Parsimony: Offsetting Misrecognition at Culpability Evaluation	107
PART III PARTIAL EXCUSE (PRACTICE, DOCTRINE, AND THEORY)
5 Universality: Understanding and Expanding the Bounds of Partial Excuse	145
6 Diminished Responsibility: Exploring the Template for the UPD	181
7 Bounded Causal Theory: Rethinking the Rationale of Partial Excuse	216

PART IV PROPOSAL

8 The Universal Partial Defence: Outlining a Blueprint for Reform	249
Conclusion	277
Bibliography	283
Index	325