

Contents

Introduction	7
Chapter 1:Law	9
Section 1:The Aims of Law	11
Section 2:The state	15
Section 3:International law	19
Section 4:Sources of International Law	23
Section 5:United Nations Organization	27
Section 6:The United Nations System	35
Section 7:The UN and Humanitarian Assistance	42
Section 8:Law, Morality and Self-interest	48
Section 9:The limits of law	54
Section 10:Lawyers	57
Section 11:Secular Law in the Western Tradition	64
Chapter 2:History	73
Section 1:Why legal history is important?	75
Section 2:Civil law and common law	81
Section 3:Written Laws and Codes	86
Section 4:Roman Law and Lawyers	94
Section 5:Lawyers as advisers, not judges	102
Section 6:Civil Law in Western Europe	108
Section 7:Modern codes	114
Section 8:The English Common Law	120
Section 9:Civil and common law come closer	128
Chapter 3:Government	131
Section 1:Government and Law	133
Section 2:The Rule of Law	138

2 □ An introduction to law

Section 3:Sovereignty.....	143
Section 4:The Trustful View:Legislative Sovereignty.....	148
Section 5:The Sceptical View:Checks and Balances.....	155
Section 6:The separation of powers.....	159
Section 7:Federalism.....	164
Section 8:Bills of rights.....	168
Section 9:Judicial Review.....	174
Section 10:Universal Declaration of Human Rights.....	178
Section 11:Protection of fundamental rights within the EuropeanUnion.....	190

Chapter 4:Property..... 199

Section 1:Reasons for protecting property.....	201
Section 2:What Counts As Property?.....	206
Section 3:Property created by the law.....	209
Section 4:Who Owns What?.....	213
Section 5:When the owner loses his ownership without consent.....	217
Section 6:The Protection of Property Rights.....	223
Section 7:The protection of possession.....	226

Chapter 5:Contracts and treaties..... 229

Section 1:Agreements.....	231
Section 2:Which Agreements are Legally Binding.....	237
Section 3:The bargain approach.....	242
Section 4:The singer and the wedding.....	245
Section 5:How can Contracts and Treaties Be Enforced?.....	250